Iran's Islamic Revolution Guards Corps (IRGC) has targeted and downed an unidentified shining object after sighting it over Persian Gulf waters.

"Glowing objects were sighted over the Persian Gulf. IRGC air defense targeted one of the objects successfully, forcing it to plummet and sink in the seas off Boushehr (Province)," said top regional commander, Brigadier Ali Razmjou.

"The three bright objects were detected by our radars when flying over the Persian Gulf Islands of Khark and Khargou," he added, according to a Monday report posted on IRNA.

Brig. Razmjou explained that when the radars indicated that they were not Iranian aircrafts, the IRGC fired at the three objects. He also added that the fallen objects' remains have not been found yet.

The exact time and location of the sighting and downing of the weird aircraft has not been announced.

What is the TIME correlation with the crashing of the 2 planes at the Military parade yesterday AND the downing of those shiny things?

I agree that it was probly a spy drone, especially since countries around the world are trying to get Iran to leave behind its nuclear ambitions and they probly want a clear picture of whats going on there before they make any mistakes with the sanctions everyone has on them. Or maybe it really was a UFO, who knows? Either way I doubt we will know the truth of all this, as usual.

Perfect timing :P The Iranian version of Roswell?? Good grief!!! Now what? Send in the US Navy and give off another emergency excuse to go in and "recover it"?

I would believe that the objects possibly came out of the water and descended back into the water as well, not out of the question.

There is a big realpolitik game going on here!!!!

They were just showing off their new S-300 PMU2 Favorit systems coupled with TOR M1 and Pantisir S1. They know Americans must be watching them across the gulf so they wanted to send a message to them. It appears Iran is getting some credible intel that an attack is on the offing. So they want to make sure their systems work and they dont become like Iraq fighting F-16 with AK-47s. youtube.com/watch?v=p8-zpuDIRUo&feature=related
